

Keller Easterling
Anti-Zone Protocol

ANTI-ZONE PROTOCOL

Posted on September 6, 2016 by urbanNext

Categories: africanCities, High Density, Ibai Rigby Assoc, Keller Easterling, Middle Density, Senseable Technologies, Talk, Technology and fabrication, Territory and mobility

Tags: Africa, African Manifestos, africanCities, Architecture, Architecture&environment, Broadband Urbanism, Built landscape, City challenge, City development, City mutations, City Planning, City Protocol, Commercial infrastructure, Design strategies, East Africa, Environment, Experimental buildings, Free Trade Zones, Free zone, Future tendencies, Global market, Global network, Investments, Kenya, Landscape urbanism, Local resources, Masterplan, Nairobi, New technologies, Rural protocols, Soft infrastructures, talk, Territorial dimension, Territory, Urban culture, Urban growth, Urban infrastructure, Urban management, Urban mobility standards, Urban planning, Urban strategy, Urbanisation, Urbanism

urbanNext Lexicon

Anti-Zone Protocol

<https://urbannext.net/anti-zone-protocol/>

<https://vimeo.com/urbannext/keller-easterling-anti-zone-protocol>

In this short excerpt of an interview by Ibai Rigby, architect and professor Keller Easterling explains how architects could elaborate alternatives to the ubiquitous Free Trade Zones that are spreading through the African continent with the failed promise of creating jobs and the image of progress.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Anti-Zone Protocol
<https://urbannext.net/anti-zone-protocol/>

ISSN : 2575-5374