Luis Rojo de Castro graduated from the Escuela Técnica Superior de Arquitectura de Madrid in 1987, where has been teaching design since 1992. He is currently Associate Professor at the Architecture Department, teaching design studios at the undergraduate and graduate programs, as well as Labs and Workshops at the Master for Advanced Architecture.

This is an excerpt of a conversation between Stan Allen and Luis Rojo, invited Editors, and Javier García-Germán and Alejandro Valdivieso, Editors-in-chief, of the number 386 of Revista de Arquitectura, by the Colegio Oficial de Arquitectos de Madrid (COAM). It was published first in Revista de Arquitectura, n° 386.
