Urbanist Ceaucescu.

It's impressive "to have a walk" using Goggle Earth over the city of Bucharest. It's actually quite worrying to discover Ceaucescu's concrete-curtain buildings, extended indifferently over the city, trying to construct a fake scenery that conceals the reality of its people without freedom. It is possible to imagine the atrocities that this dictator was capable of realizing, just by observing the photomap of the city.
