

REPORT

MADWORKSHOP

Design Education & Action

DESIGN EDUCATION AND ACTION

Posted on April 24, 2018 by content

Categories: Audio&visual, expanding design practices, MADWORKSHOP, No Density, PLANE—SITE, Politics and economics, Urban Paradigms

Tags: Active Public Spaces, Agency of Urban Organization, Architect's role, Audiovisual, Cultural agitator, Discipline, Economics, Education, Emergency architecture, Empowering society, Housing, Politics, Social contributor, Urban Paradigms

urbanNext Lexicon

Design Education and Action
<https://urbannext.net/design-education-and-action/>

PLANE—SITE is the frequent documenter of MADWORKSHOP Foundation, a Los Angeles-based nonprofit that seeks to empower students pushing architectural fabrication forward with lasting social impact. Interviewing founders Mary Klaus Martin and David Martin, staff, Board members, and Fellows, PLANE—SITE produced this overview of the aims and ambitions of the Foundation and highlighting the projects MADWORKSHOP supports.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Design Education and Action
<https://urbannext.net/design-education-and-action/>

ISSN : 2575-5374