

IMAGE CULTURE & IDEOLOGY

Posted on January 16, 2023 by urban Categories: Archive, Climax Change!, Contributors, Densities, Energy and sustainability, Esther Choi, expanding design practices, Formats, No Density, Pedro Gadanho, Politics and economics, Talk, Topics

Tags: Architecture&climate, Built environment, Climate change, Climax Change, Culture, Efficiency, Environmental&technological, History of Architecture, Media, Modernity, On Discourse and Practices, Research, Social practices, Sustainability, talk

urbanNext Lexicon

Image Culture & Ideology
<https://urbannext.net/image-culture-ideology/>

Esther Choi, artist and historian, raises questions around architecture as a social and cultural practices that is crossed by image culture. Her work investigates how social and technical systems which articulate ideas within the building environment are rooted in some ideology. In this talk, she discusses the impact of her essay 'Sustainability's Image Problem' in a discipline that is struggling with questioning the normative view of modernization to effectively address the climate emergency.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Image Culture & Ideology
<https://urbannext.net/image-culture-ideology/>

ISSN : 2575-5374