

LANDSCAPES OF DEMOCRACY

Posted on November 8, 2016 by urbanNext

Categories: High Density, Ibai Rigby Assoc, Rahul Mehrotra, Talk, Territory and mobility, Urban Paradigms

Tags: Architectural theory, Architecture, Architecture's challenge, Challenge, Cities, Cultural diversity, Culture, Democracy, Democratic systems, Demography, Dubai, Education, Emergent issues, Future cities, Future development, Future generations, Future tendencies, Global Awareness, Global discourse, Global South, India, Landscape of democracy, Landscape planning, Middle class, Political implications, Population, Shanghai, Social cohesion, Social commitment, Social culture, talk, Territorial dimension, Time, Transportation, Urban clock, Urban conditions, Urban Dialogue, Urban Paradigms, Urban pathologies, Urban planning, Urban policies, Urban political ecology, Urban sprawl, Water, Western paradigms

urbanNext Lexicon

Landscapes of Democracy
<https://urbannext.net/landscapes-of-democracy/>

In this short excerpt from an interview with architect, urban designer and educator Rahul Mehrotra, the challenges of rapid urban growth in India are explained and compared to the conditions in other developing countries.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Landscapes of Democracy
<https://urbannext.net/landscapes-of-democracy/>

ISSN : 2575-5374