

PLUG-IN BUSUA

Posted on November 21, 2023 by schonburg

Categories: DeRoché Strohmayer, Energy and sustainability, expanding design practices, Glenn DeRoché, Gloria Schönburg, Juergen Strohmayer, Marta Bugés, Middle Density, Politics and economics, Southern Coexistences, Talk

Tags: Adaptive reuse, Collective identity, Community, Community Hub, Ghana, Local materials, Local techniques, Participation, Social contributor, Social infrastructure, Sports Facilities

Authorship: Interview by Marta Bugés. Content edited by Gloria Schönburg. Edited by Evgenyia Barashkova.

urbanNext Lexicon

Plug-In Busua

<https://urbannext.net/plug-in-busua/>

DeRoché Strohmayr is an architectural firm based in Accra, New York City, and Vienna, created by Glenn DeRoché, who promotes sustainable building in the Caribbean, the US, and West Africa and Juergen Strohmayr, who focuses on climate-conscious design and community projects connecting West Africa and Europe. In this video they talk about their installation at the 18th International Architecture Exhibition – La Biennale di Venezia, "Plug-In Busua", which speaks to their recent project Surf Ghana Collective, a cultural and surfing center in Busua, Ghana.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Plug-In Busua

<https://urbannext.net/plug-in-busua/>

ISSN : 2575-5374