

POLICIES & LANDSCAPE: SHAPING THE ENVIRONMENT

Posted on July 6, 2022 by xavigonzalez

---

Categories: Alfredo Ramírez, Contributors, Densities, Formats, No Density, Politics and economics, Talk, Territory and mobility, Topics

Tags: Architect's challenge, Climate change, Developing policies, Geographies of extraction, Global South, Green growth, Inequality, Landscape planning, Mapping, Material extraction, Participation, Political ecology, Political implications, Research, talk, Visualization urbanNext interviews Jose Alfredo Ramírez on his work at AA Groundlab and how policies shape the landscape. His research explores strategies to face the effects of climate change, such as the New Green Deal, and how its application is different in the Global South and the Global North.

urbanNext Lexicon

Policies & Landscape: Shaping the Environment
<https://urbannext.net/policies-landscape-shaping-the-environment/>

ISSN : 2575-5374