

SITE VERRIER DE MEISENTHAL: DIALOGUE WITH INDUSTRIAL HERITAGE

Posted on August 10, 2022 by xavigonzalez

Categories: Contributors, Densities, Formats, Middle Density, Project, SO-IL, Territory and mobility, Topics, Urban Paradigms

Tags: Concrete, Cultural identity, France, Heritage, Industrial context, Inner courtyard, Multifunctional building, Project, Public Space, Rooftop, Transformation, Urban Legacy, Volume

urbanNext Lexicon

Site Verrier de Meisenthal: Dialogue with Industrial Heritage
<https://urbannext.net/site-verrier-de-meisenthal-dialogue-with-industrial-heritage/>

Hidden in the bucolic landscape of Northern Vosges Natural Park, Site Verrier de Meisenthal is a publicly funded active cultural center in a historic glass factory dating back to the 18th century.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Site Verrier de Meisenthal: Dialogue with Industrial Heritage

<https://urbannext.net/site-verrier-de-meisenthal-dialogue-with-industrial-heritage/>

ISSN : 2575-5374

An undulating poured-in-place concrete surface alludes to glass production while it merges the buildings. The surface functions as roof, ceiling and wall, connecting the buildings' ground floors to shape a public plaza. New functions are sensitively introduced under and over this surface, including offices, workshop areas, a cafe and a restaurant.

urbanNext Lexicon

Site Verrier de Meisenthal: Dialogue with Industrial Heritage

<https://urbannext.net/site-verrier-de-meisenthal-dialogue-with-industrial-heritage/>

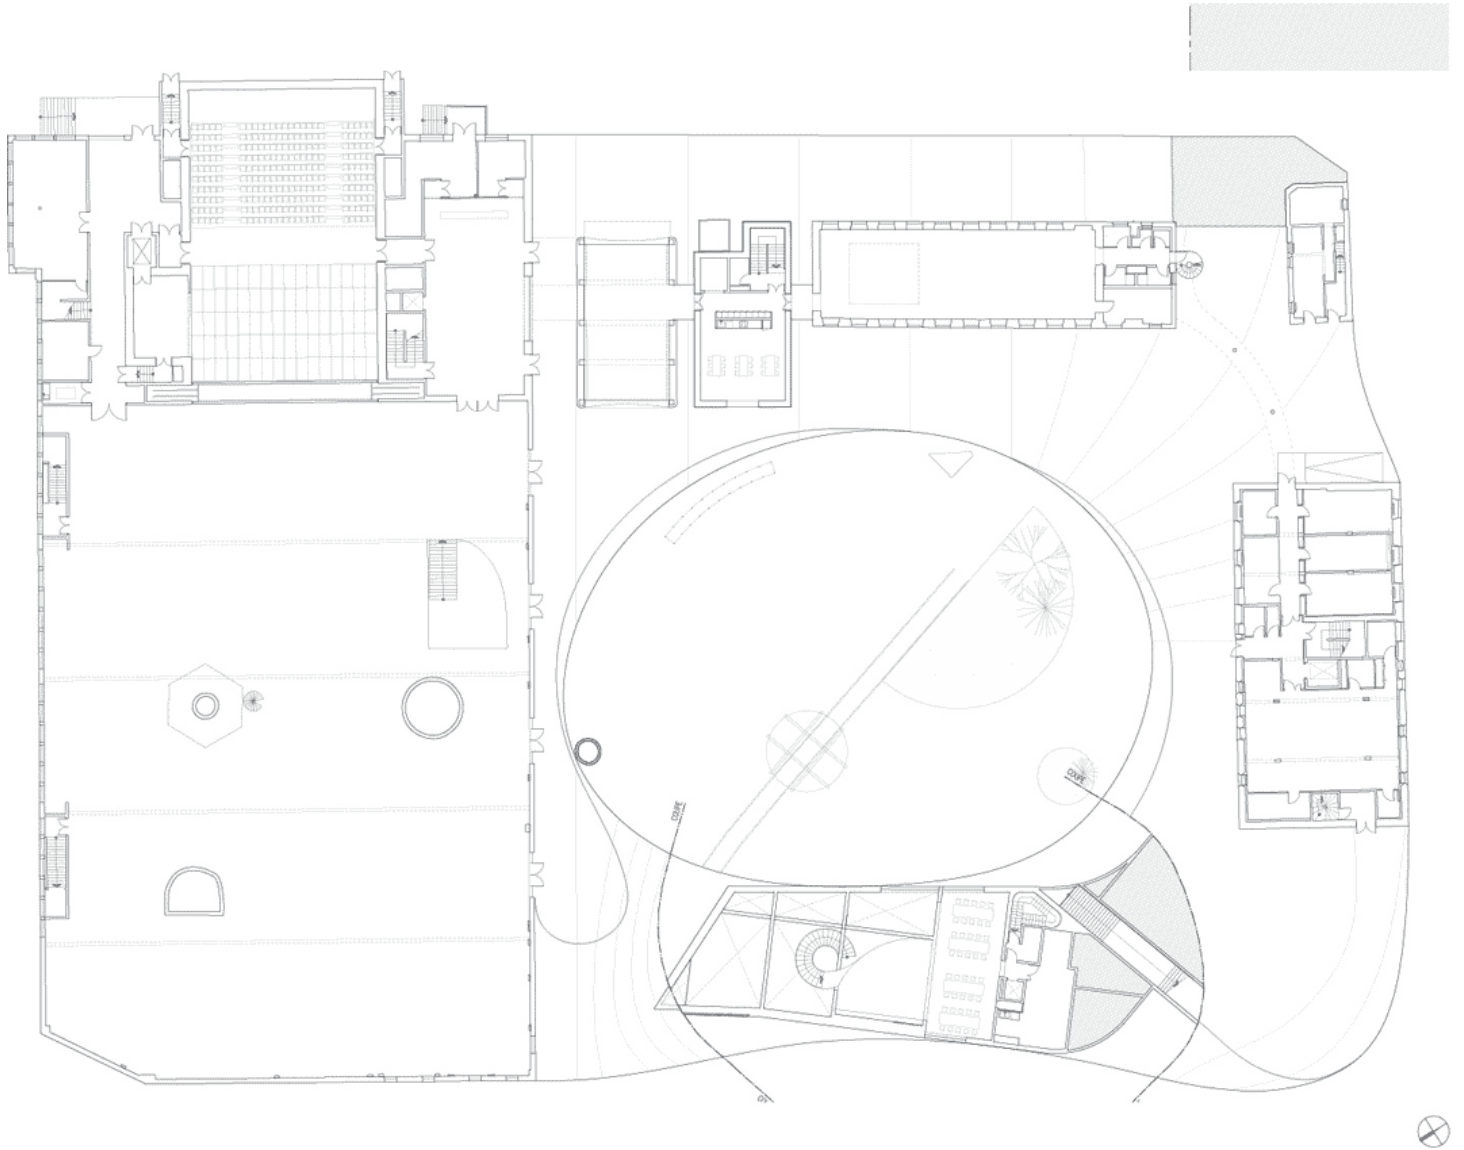

Existing building functions are reimaged and extended: the factory hall is given a new entrance on a previously unused basement floor and a 500-seat black box theater that can be reconfigured as a theater with standing room for 700 or opened into a concert hall for 3,000. The new public space heightens civic awareness of the historical site and also introduces a highly flexible venue for outdoor theater performances, concerts, and seasonal festivities.

ISSN : 2575-5374

urbanNext Lexicon

Site Verrier de Meisenthal: Dialogue with Industrial Heritage
<https://urbannext.net/site-verrier-de-meisenthal-dialogue-with-industrial-heritage/>

ISSN : 2575-5374

